

Pneumosynthesis, Primordial Psychotherapy, and Tools for Evolution

Certification Training Program

Over 25 years I'm trying to solve the secret of successful psychotherapy and harmonious soul life, studying with great psychotherapists. The received results are in no small measure discouraging: the psychotherapy is successful by no means not therefore that is considered the reason of its efficiency, and is frequently contrary to that!

The modern psychotherapy is a little more than hundred years old. But what was "a psychotherapy before psychotherapy", before Freud and Breuer? How throughout the millennia people healed the souls and cared of them?

The Program gives the answer to questions of what were, is, and will be primordial practices of the "cares of the soul" in the history of humanity.

Each successful psychotherapist, does he knows it or not, intuitively uses from one to three modalities of "primordial psychotherapy". But if he or she masters all nine, he can become the great professional. The only point is to apply them in a modern way, i.e. according to circumstances and the multidimensional and multilevel character of our life.

Three primordial worlds: ancestors, person, gods or causality, meanings, freedom or finite, intermediate, infinite.

Human situation: external, internal, secret (intrinsic).

Three worlds are a representation of a human situation in an inner world.

Three types of initial psychotherapy: external, internal and secret.

In transpersonal psychotherapy there is Hellinger (ancestors), Grof (gods and ancestors), Dostoyevsky (people).
